Sumitomo Trust & Banking Company, Ltd. Achieves Automated Regulatory Reporting Success with Lombard Risk's STB-Reporter

LONDON, United Kingdom – 24 June 2008 – Lombard Risk Management PLC, a global leader in financial risk management and global regulatory compliance, today announced that Sumitomo Trust & Banking Company, Limited have implemented STB-Reporter to automate the company's regulatory reporting process. Sumitomo Trust is a leading world-class Japanese trust bank that also provides securities lending services to its clients in 20 major markets worldwide.

Toru Matsuura, Controller for Sumitomo Trust, commented on the decision to adopt the Lombard Risk solution, "STB-Reporter is an ideal reporting solution for our bank because it gives us the ability to automate a labor-intensive process, to improve the accuracy and timeliness of reporting, and to comply with the complex financial reporting requirements confronting a growing, global operation such as ours."

STB-Reporter's flexible functionality was a key factor in the decision. Among the product's strengths was the ability to consolidate data from multiple systems and multiple formats into a central repository while providing users the ability to easily navigate to target data and compile reports that comply with recognized regulatory agencies.

John Wisbey, Lombard Risk CEO, commented, "We are pleased that Sumitomo Trust has selected STB-Reporter as its regulatory reporting compliance solution. Our strategy is to stay out in front of increasing regulatory demands with innovative solutions so that our clients can focus more on the business at hand."

Toru Matsuura added, "We feel that STB-Reporter is the ideal solution for Sumitomo Trust because it fits our approach to compliance automation. Our goal was to find a powerful and comprehensive regulatory reporting solution, where we can take a disciplined approach to data capture for reporting purposes as well as create a manageable framework that allows for controlled adjustments, and full audit tracking to prove to auditors that the reports generated are complete, accurate and up-to-date. We were looking for a full compliance reporting solution that would enable Sumitomo Trust to maintain a high level of functional transparency, ensure ease of maintenance, and be flexible enough to adapt to all of our changing compliance reporting needs. Lombard Risk and STB-Reporter proved to be more than up to the task."
